As owner of my own marketing company Social Txt Map, I pride myself on being a results-driven individual. Under-promising and over-delivery is my way of service. I certainly understand the importance and value your brand has for your business, and appreciate the need for its strategic positioning on a global basis for sustained business benefit. My philosophy is influenced by this truth, and has led me to reorganize my setup such that I offer a homogenous mix today of creativity, business strategy, technological ability, and media design to offer the best-of-breed marketing solutions to my clients. My enduring philosophy has been to combine skill-sets seamlessly to deliver a comprehensive solution that meets the specific requirements of my clients. Call Amy Zehr: (719) 371-1258
